CHARGES COMBINE ON DENTAL GOODS

A nation-wide combination and conspiracy to monopolize the manufacture and sale of dental goods of all descriptions, and to force adherence to standard resale prices fixed by the manufacturers, was charged today by the Federal Trade Commission in a complaint filed against the American Dental Trade Association, of Boston; the Dental Manufacturers' Club, of New York; and the Retail Dental Dealers' Association, of Providence, R. I., together with the officers of the organizations. Representatives of the associations and their memberships were directed to make answer to the complaint by November 21.

The combination and conspiracy between the organizations "has produced the following effects upon interstate trade in dental goods," the complaint charges:

"1. Individuals, partnerships and corporations engaged in business as retail dealers have been prevented from increasing their business, and have been driven out of business, because, not being members of the American Dental Trade Association, they have been unable to purchase at wholesale prices supplies produced by association members.

"2. Individuals, partnerships and corporations manufacturing dental goods have been prevented from enlarging their business because a large majority of retailers are members of the American Dental Trade Association and refuse to handle dental goods not manufactured by members of that association.

"3. Manufacturers and retailers desiring to become members of the trade association have been denied membership because of severe and unreasonable conditions upon which such membership is based."

TALCUM POWDER IS USED BY RATS

Baltimoreans Find That Substitute for Barium Carbonate Won't Kill Pests.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—The Baltimore Pied Piper of Hamelin, who was wondering why so few rats have failed to be charmed by the sprinkling of barium carbonate in all crannies and corners, has discovered that another Piper has been at work.

The real Pied Piper is the Government, which is carrying on a campaign to kill the rats by using barium carbonate, a chemical powder which the rats eat. The representative in Baltimore is J. L. Nicholas, who has investigated complaints from many persons in Baltimore and vicinity, stating that they have been using powder prescribed, but that not one rat was killed.

At every place where complaints were made Mr. Nicholas found that the supposed barium carbonate was talcum powder. It seems that a man purporting to be an employee of the Government has been peddling talcum powder, which looks like barium carbonate, to these persons, and charging $2.50 a pound for it.

Mr. Nicholas warns the public against purchasing barium carbonate from any other than reliable sources, such as drug stores or stores. The Government is not sending out peddlers.

URGENT NEGRO COLONY ON MEXICAN BORDER

Colonization of the negroes now living in the United States on a stretch of territory between Mexico and this country is the principal topic being discussed by forty-eight delegates of the Free Will Methodist Church, now meeting in Washington.

Dr. M. M. Madden, minister and lawyer of Oklahoma City, Okla., has been chosen spokesman for the delegation, and is now attempting to interest members of Congress in the movement. Dr. Madden claims that 90 per cent of the negroes now residing in the United States would be willing to emigrate to a free and independent country of their own. He said that this country could be rid of its race problem if the Government would lend its support to this movement.

The territory now being considered by the negroes lies partly within the borders of the United States and partly within the borders of Mexico, making an area of 50,000 square miles.

Dr. Madden said that the members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee are in favor of encouraging the undertaking, and that they have granted him a hearing on the matter to be held in the near future.

If this movement fails, Dr. Madden said, the Free Will Methodist Church would look to Liberia as a means of solving the race problem. At present, he said, Liberia would have to be a second thought, because of the difficulty in transporting any appreciable percentage of the race to Africa.

WOMAN "RAFFLES" USES LIMOUSINE

Flees Through Window When Caught in Act of Robbing Pittsburgh Home.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17.—A fair "Raffles" swathed in a long black coat with heavy tresses flowing down her back, who travels in a limousine driven by a liveried chauffeur, barely escaped capture on two occasions while robbing homes of wealthy residents in the Squirrel Hill district.

She is described as pretty by Mrs. W. E. Snyder. She made her escape from the latter's home through an open window when confronted by Mrs. Snyder and her two daughters, who had been awakened by the crash of a cut glass pitcher which fell from the buffet.

When discovered in the home of R. S. Melhorn, two hours later, the fair Raffles gave Mr. Melhorn a good opportunity to look her over. He did, and then gave the alarm. Undaunted, however, she left the Melhorn home, stepped into her car a few yards away and was gone.

The police have no clue.
